

ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA

Tucson Society

Classics Department
Learning Services Building #203
PO Box 210105
Tucson, AZ 85721-0105
520-621-3446

The Tucson Society of the AIA invites you to join us for an exciting program of talks this spring. We look forward to seeing you at our lectures and at the receptions following each talk. Please note that some of our talks are co-sponsored this semester, and the times and locations vary. The closest parking garage for CESL is the one on Second and Highland Streets. The closest garage for the Anthropology (Haury) Building is the Tyndall Parking garage on Tyndall and Fourth Avenue. For the Arizona Historical Society, the Main Gate Parking Garage is closest, on Euclid Avenue and Second Street. If you need additional information about our program, AIA membership, or directions to the buildings, please contact Mary Voyatzis at the above phone number or via email at MEV@u.arizona.edu. The Phoenix Chapter of the AIA (the Central Arizona Society) is also offering a full and interesting program of lectures again this spring. For more information about their program, please contact Elizabeth Griesman, President (623-439-0297; Elizabeth.griesman@asu.edu). We would like to remind you also that Dr. Hasaki began to build the Greek kiln this past October, using the money she won from an AIA Local Society Incentive Grant. For more information, visit our website at <http://aiatucson.org/>. Our website is maintained by John Papageorgiou and Joey Williams.

Mary Voyatzis	Ed Pierce	Jennifer Kendall	Alison Futrell	Jared Benton	Joshua Mix
President	Coordinator	Vice-President	Secretary	Treasurer	Society Contact

AIA Tucson Society

Spring 2005 Program:

Thursday, Feb. 3rd
Center for English as a
Second Language (CESL) 102
5:00 p.m.

Dr. Joseph Seger, Director, Cobb Institute of Archaeology at Mississippi State University
Were the Israelites ever at Tell Halif?
(Co-sponsored by the AIA, the American Schools of Oriental Research, Arizona Center for Judaic Studies, and Department of Anthropology)

Thursday, Feb. 24th
Arizona Historical Society
7:00 p.m.

Dr. Zianab Bahrani, Professor of Art History and Archaeology, Columbia University
Mesopotamia as a Battleground: Iraq's Cultural Heritage under Occupation
(Sponsored by the Department of Anthropology, Sabbagh lecture)

Tuesday, March 29th
Center for English as a
Second Language (CESL) 102
5:00 p.m.

Dr. Sturt Manning, Professor of Fine Arts, University of Toronto
Towards a History of the Aegean Bronze Age: Why Dates Matter
(Sponsored by the AIA)

Wednesday, April 13th
Anthropology (Haury) 216
4:00 p.m.

Dr. Francis Hayashida, Professor of Archaeology at Pennsylvania State University
Water, Land, and Politics on the Late Prehispanic North Coast of Peru
(Co-sponsored by the AIA and the Department of Anthropology)

All AIA lectures are free and open to the public