

ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA
Tucson Society
Department of History
Social Sciences Building #215
PO Box 210027
University of Arizona
Tucson, AZ 85721-0027
520-626-8428

The Tucson Society of the AIA invites you to join us for a most stimulating program of talks this spring. All members, friends and guests are encouraged to attend the lectures and stay for the sparkling archaeological chit-chat at the receptions following each talk. Please take careful note of the day of the week and the location for the talks, as these vary. For those coming from off campus, the closest parking garage for Chavez (formerly Economics) and Harvill is the one on Second Street, between Mountain and Highland. If you need additional information about our program, AIA membership, or directions to the buildings, please contact Alison Futrell at the above phone number or via email at afutrell@u.arizona.edu. We also want to let you know that the Tucson Society's reconstruction of the ancient Greek kiln was featured in the poster session of the annual meeting of the AIA in Montreal in early January; you'll remember that this exciting project made use of funds awarded Dr. Hasaki as the very first recipient of the AIA Local Society Incentive Grant. For more information about your local AIA, and photos of the kiln in action, visit our website at <http://aiatucson.org/>.

A.Futrell	E. Pierce	E.Hasaki	R. Wilkinson	E. Thienes	A. Stoimenoff	J. Williams
President	Coordinator	Vice-President	Secretary	Treasurer	Society Contact	Webmaster

AIA Tucson Society

Spring 2006 Program:

Tuesday, February 7	Dr. Takeshi Inomata , Associate Professor of Anthropology, University of Arizona
Chavez 110	The Foundation of a New Dynastic Capital: Archaeological Investigations
5:00 p.m.	at the Classic Maya Center of Aquateca, Guatemala (Co-sponsored by the AIA and the Departments of History and Classics)
Tuesday, February 21	Dr. Clemency Coggins , Professor of Archaeology and Art History, Boston University
Chavez 110	The Consequences of Looting the Maya
5:00 p.m.	(Co-sponsored by the AIA and the Departments of History and Classics)
Thursday, March 9	Dr. Laura Hollengreen , Ass't Professor of Architecture History, University of Arizona
Harvill 204	Embedded and Embodied: Monumental Media and a History of Viewing at the Gothic Cathedral at Chartres
5:00 p.m.	(Co-sponsored by the AIA and the Departments of History and Classics)

Thursday, April 6

Harvill 204

5:00 p.m.

Dr. Beth Alpert Nakhai, Ass't. Professor of Judaic
Studies, University of Arizona

Mothers and Children: Figurative Imagery of the Ancient Near East

(Co-sponsored by the AIA and the Departments of History and Classics)

All AIA lectures are free and open to the public

The Phoenix Chapter of the AIA (the Central Arizona Society) is also offering a full and interesting program of lectures again this spring. For more information about their program, please contact Elizabeth Griesman, President (623-439-0297; Elizabeth.griesman@asu.edu).